

Louisville
Office of the Mayor

Proclamation

Greetings to whom all these presents shall come, know ye that

WHEREAS, the Louisville Metro is pleased to welcome everyone attending the "Exploring Innovation: Closing the Wealth Divide...New Ways to Help the Underserved Build Credit and Assets" event sponsored by the Community Affairs Office of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, Louisville Branch; and

WHEREAS, today's event highlights "Exploring Innovation in Community Development Week" and recognizes the role of innovation in shaping the community development industry and promotes a culture of innovation in communities, regions and states; and,

WHEREAS, this meeting will offer you the opportunity to exchange ideas in the field of community development, and we extend thanks and appreciation to John Hope Bryant for taking time out of his busy schedule to be here and share his insights; and,

WHEREAS, the Louisville Metro salutes the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, Louisville Branch for sponsoring this important event to showcase innovative community development strategies and foster long-term solutions to unmet community needs in our region; now,

THEREFORE, I, Jerry E. Abramson, Mayor, do hereby proclaim April 14~18, 2008, as

Exploring Innovation in Community Development Week in Louisville, Kentucky, and I urge all citizens to observe this special recognition.

Jerry E. Abramson

Jerry E. Abramson, Mayor