The Problem

A report from the Memphis Chamber of Commerce shows that roughly 18,000 jobs in the city of Memphis went unfilled in 2013 because of a lack of qualified, skilled workers. This figure is all the more troubling when one considers a report prepared by Seeding Success in partnership with the Workforce Investment Network which shows that there were 32,877 youth between the ages of 16-24 were not in school or working during that same year.
BGCM has pioneered a program to help train the low-income opportunity youth that we serve in an effort to eliminate poverty from their lives and future generations.

Communities In Schools
Tennessee at Memphis
In schools to help kids stay in school.
Who We Are

Communities In Schools (CIS) is the nation’s leading dropout prevention organization, with a mission to surround students with a community of support empowering them to stay in school and achieve in life. Communities In Schools of Tennessee at Memphis (CISTN@Memphis) is a private 501(c)(3) non-profit affiliate of the CIS national network.

Adhering to the CIS model, staff members support students staying in school and achieving in life by providing for the five basics:

1) A one-on-one relationship with a caring adult;
2) A safe place to learn and grow;
3) A healthy start and a healthy future;
4) A marketable skill to use upon graduation; and
5) A chance to give back to peers and community. To provide for these five basics and to ensure students are prepared to achieve in life, the CIS model requires inclusion of college and career readiness for the students we serve.
Experience and Impact

CISTN@Memphis has implemented the CIS Model, with fidelity for three years. As a result, all staff are skilled in leading and supervising programs using a data-informed approach to support students/youth in achieving specific goals. CISTN outcomes from 2016-17 demonstrate this commitment and approach. In 2016-17, of the k-11\textsuperscript{th} case managed students served:

- 95\% stayed in school and
- 87\% were promoted to the next grade level.

Of the case managed 12\textsuperscript{th} grade students served:

- 89\% graduated
Our Request

In May 2017, CISTN@Memphis was awarded a contract of $94,410 to provide In-School Youth Services Programming under the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act of 2014 with the Workforce Investment Network (WIN). This contact is for two years at $47,205 each year. The total cost for program implementation is $114,000 per year. A grant of $134,000 for two years ($67,000/year) will fully fund the workforce development programming at Melrose High School.

- Salary Support - $60,300 (45%)
- Program Support - $33,500 (25%)
- Materials/Supplies - $20,100 (15%)
- Supportive Services - $20,100 (15%)
The Issue

Working to build the future workforce of Memphis is complex
• Almost one quarter of all youth 20-24 years old in Memphis not in school nor working
• 75% are living at the poverty level or lower
• 48% do not have a diploma.
The data clearly indicate that youth would benefit from support to help them graduate from high school as well as assistance in the pursuit of their post-secondary endeavors in order to become the workforce of tomorrow.

Population Served

Melrose High School serves a neighborhood that has struggled economically over the past couple decades. Today, at least 99% of the students are African-American and over 92% of students at Melrose come from families that are economically disadvantaged; struggling with the impacts of poverty. The College & Career Readiness Program will focus on serving seniors.
The core of the CISTN@Memphis College & Career Readiness Program is four-fold:

1. Work Readiness: Throughout their 12th grade year in high school, youth will be involved in both group and individual work readiness programs including:
   - Work Readiness Workshops
   - Career Exploration Workshops
   - Workplace Visits
   - Connections to Training Programs

2. College Readiness: For youth focused on the college post-secondary path, CISTN will provide the following supports:
   - ACT prep
   - FAFSA night to support timely completion
   - School match consultations
   - Application assistance, including personal essays
   - Independence skills such as budgeting, self-management, personal advocacy, etc.
   - College visits

3. Summer Engagement: To prevent summer melt, CISTN will hold regular group and individual events throughout the summer to ensure youth are preparing for college and supported in their post-secondary transitions.

4. Post-Secondary Support: As youth transition into their post-secondary opportunities, whether school or work focused, CISTN will continue to provide support to ensure students are able to stay focused and committed to their post-secondary plans.
Anticipated Outcomes/Impact

✅ 84% will graduate from high school
✅ 81% will enroll in post-secondary educational programs or gain employment
✅ 84% will improve their literacy and numeracy skills
✅ 85% will improve their social-emotional and work readiness skills

Ultimately, the College & Career Readiness Program is designed to build a stronger future workforce and contribute to breaking the ties of generational poverty.

Evaluation Methods

At the beginning of the school year, individualized goals are developed for each student with the following metrics:

• Attendance rate
• Out-of-school suspensions
• Academic grades/ course completion
• Social-emotional learning assessment
